

Conflict Minerals (3T&G) Policy Statement

In 2012, Section 1502 of the Dodd–Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act provision requires publically traded companies to disclose and report their use of ‘Conflict Minerals’, which is identified as tin, tungsten, tantalum, and gold.

Stock Manufacturing & Design is not subject to the final rules of the provision because it is a private company. Stock Manufacturing & Design is sensitive to the concerns of its business partners and we understand that our customers are subject to the final rules; furthermore we share the concerns of the intention of the provision to limit human rights abuses.

Stock Manufacturing & Design asks of it’s suppliers to conduct the necessary internal inquiry and, where appropriate, additional due diligence to provide us with confirmation of the source of the materials used in their processes and ultimately present in our products.

Stock Manufacturing & Design has many layers to the supply chain. Our steel suppliers have declared to us that they either do not use or have not procured them from the region in question. In the event we become aware of added conflict minerals to our products it will be fully disclosed.

Thank you for the opportunity to be your supplier. We appreciate your business.
